

Agios Dimitrios Beach Faraggi

38.14195315, 24.447808280181

A fairytale beach almost below the village of the same name, which you reach by going down and turning down a steep dirt road. It is crossed by the small river that forms the stream of Porphyra as it makes its last steps before emptying into the sea, where it also forms a pond. Next to it, in addition, a cave with stalactites is erected.

Green trees on the banks of the stream and a small bridge over the river. Blue, transparent waters, white, fine pebbles. Behind the stream, in fact, there is also a cafe-bar-tavern, which serves the essentials. In the summer, many people come with tents or for their daily swim. May, September, October, maybe even early June, the beach is even lonely.
